THEATRICAL OFFERINGS

REAL GLIMPSE OF STAGE LIFE IN STAHL PLAY

Cleo Ridgley and Marguerite Daw, in the respective roles of Patricia O'Brien and Nora O'Brien in "The Chorus Lady" are proving a popular pair of artists at the Liberty theater, where they will be seen for the last time at the performance of this evening. Both of these actresses have been seen in Honolulu at the Liberty theater in Paramount pictures on previous occasions, and each has scored a big success. The former is best remembered for her sterling work in the leading feminine role of "Hypocrites."

In "The Chorus Lady," the vehicle in which Rose Stahl starred for a number of seasons and one of the most popular comedy-dramas ever staged, the title role allows Miss Ridgley a splendid opportunity. The little chorus girl, large of heart and sharp of tongue, is ever on the defensive and endeavors to keep her little sister from a life behind the scenes. Nora, however, is self-willed and needs not the warning of Patricia's experience. Her trip upon the boards is a big lesson and human example to the thousands of stage-struck girls throughout the country.

The story of life behind the footlights ever holds a deep interest for the theater-goer. The glimpse behind the curtain in this offering is particularly instructive and pleasing. "Neal of the Navy" is thrilling and presages a most successful finale for hero and heroine.

NEW FOX FILM AT HAWAII FOR REST OF WEEK

Grace Miller White, author of "Tess of the Storm Country," Mary Pickford's greatest film offering, is also credited with the authorship of "From the Valley of the Missing," the Fox Film Corporation's offering at the Hawaii theater tonight and for the balance of the week.

This offering has been produced under the direction of Frank Powell, the man who scored such a big film success through his direction of "A Fool There Was" and "The Children of the Ghetto." Both of these films have recently been shown in Honolulu and have proved winners here as screen offerings and great advance agents for future Fox offerings.

The story told in pictures is one filled with thrilling scenes and situations. It allows for anti-climax upon anti-climax with a real Fox thriller as a finale. The Hawaii theater is presenting numerous Fox offerings at the present time and all of the Fox bills register big. William Fox has managed to secure the services of a number of the leading artists on the speaking stage of the old and the new world.

"Who Pays?" another of those short serials complete in each installment of three reels, is proving a winner at the Hawaii and is one of the strong serial offerings that stands out from the rank and file of such pictures. It points a strong sociological question and offers a solution.

EDNA MAYO AS 'DECEIVER' IS STAR OF FILM

"The Little Deceiver" is a comedy of American country life and manners which on the legitimate stage has been presented with wonderful success.

Edna Mayo, internationally famous as a comedian, will make her photodramatic debut in the role of a little heroine. "The Little Deceiver" is a late three-part offering at the Empire theater today. Favored with a plot of unusual interest there is sufficient comedy incorporated in the play to add much spice to its presentation. The comedy of the subject is derived from a series of ludicrous misfortunes of which Miss Mayo, as the star, is a constant victim. The cast includes several such favorites of moving-pictures as Richard Travis and John Bartlett.

Augusta Anderson and Robert Nolan are central figures in a cleverly presented comedy, "The Chadford Diamonds."

With Billy Quirk taking the front and center through about 20 minutes of roaring farce, "Billy, the Bear Tamer," is assured of making a distinct hit. Albert Roccardi, Constance Talmadge and Edwin Roberts are screen favorites who have won fresh laurels in this play.

CONNIE MACK TO FIGURE FOR BIG FIGHT IN 1917

Athletic Boss Signs Many Recruits; May Land Another $100,000 Infield

If Connie Mack can locate four players who will make another $100,000 infield the citizens of Philadelphia state that the Athletics will be in the first division this year, but according to the statement of the Athletic boss, he isn't planning on 1917 but rather hints that he will be in the running in 1917.

Last year the Athletics were voted a joke team, but still they had a number of stars in the lineup, but with Baker, Collins and Barry out of that infield they could hardly hope to keep from skidding. Then Connie slipped Plank and Bender the "fare ye well" and shifted Schang to third base.

Chang Behind Bat. This season Schang, who, by the way, is one of the best receivers in the business, will be stationed behind the plate, and Mack has picked up a good catcher in Perkins, who will succeed Lapp. There are several other recruits around the camp and one of them may be kept on the payroll.

Connie's roster looks like the city directory of a fair-sized burg, and if he doesn't land a few good ball players out of the lot, it will not be because he did not have an abundance of material. When a kid gets to be 15 and has displayed any talent in baseball, it is an even bet that he has been approached by the Athletic boss.

Score of Recruits. Mack will have Bush, Wycoff, Davis, Sheehan, Nabors, Aldsworth, Bressler, Knowlson, Mellinger, Hart and several other recruits for a pitching staff. Bush and Wycoff are the only players who have proved to be stars, although Bressler has pitched good ball on occasions. Mellinger is from Cedar Rapids and comes well recommended, while Hart of Carlisle is touted as a sure find.

McInnis will be at the first station, and this will not show any weakness for this department, and Napoleon Lajoie or Malone will be stationed at the second sack. Nap is still a good ball player, and inasmuch as he is one of the best fielders in the game and can still hit, he may beat the youngster for the place. Last year Lajoie hit around 280, which isn't such a bad figure for a veteran.

Fight for Jobs.

Kopf, Healey and one or two of the other recruits, will fight it out for a place at short and third base. In addition, Mack has several other players who may be given a chance to show. Mack isn't figuring on this year, and with his experiments it is hardly expected that he will finish better than seventh in the American race. Cleveland should be better this year and Connie may find another place in the cellar.

The signing of Pick, Crane and McConnell will help out in the infield, and Pick will make a fight for the hard place at third, while in the outfield with Oldring, if he plays, Strunk, Walsh and Thompson. Mack will have a fair outfield, but one that will hardly rank with the best.

The next article will review the work of Pat Moran's Phillies, who captured the National League pennant last season.

LOOKS RATHER FAMILIAR, BOX SCORE FROM MAJORS; JIM THORPE HITS 'EM, TOO

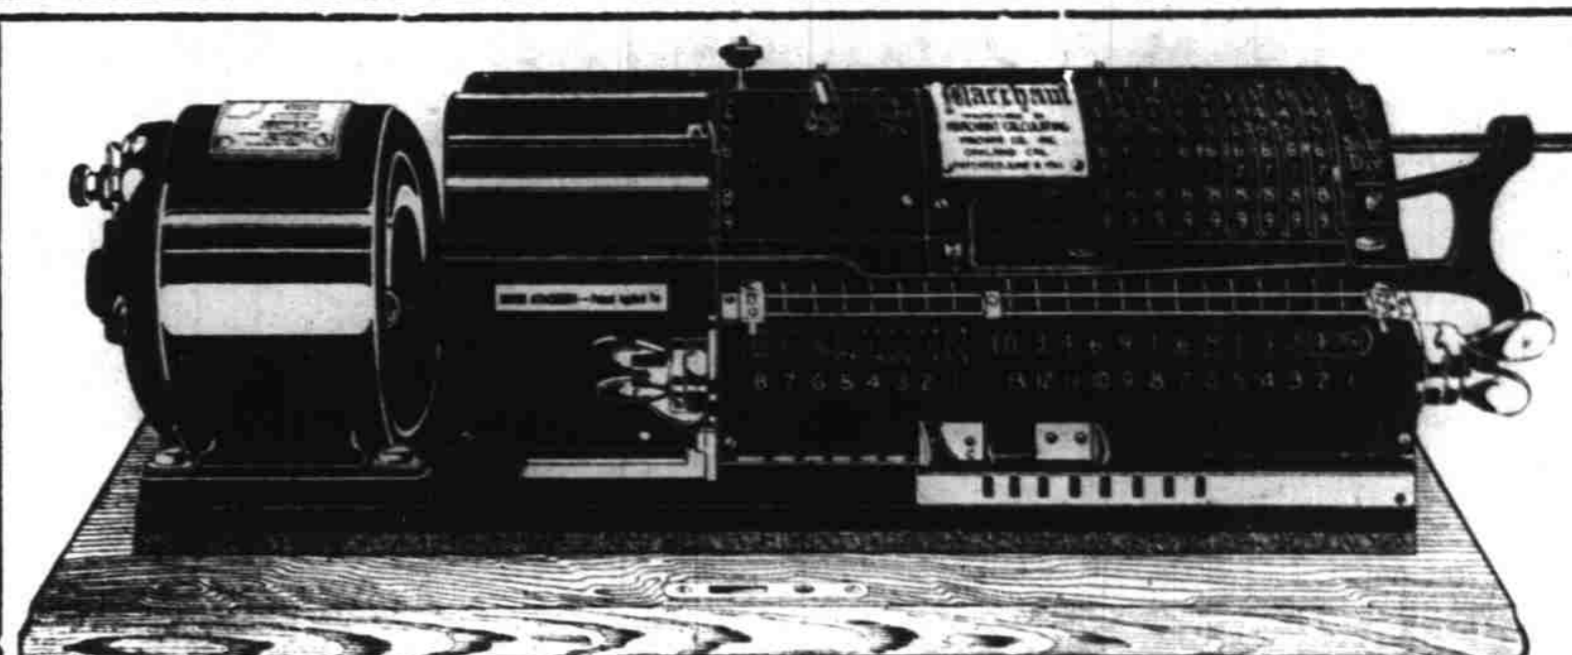

Honolulu has had any number of box scores during the past few months, but it has been some time since a box score has appeared with the name of a big leaguer in the list. Here is the first one to appear in a Honolulu publication.

You will notice that Jim Thorpe is starting out again with his big blows in the training camp, but he has not as yet proved that he can keep his mark up when the team starts the race for the flag. In the Giants' exhibition with Dallas, the Indian annexed a homer, a triple and a single. It will also be noticed that Benny Kauff and Rosch are not in the New York line-up.
